

Secession and its Legacy...

Charleston, South Carolina

Fort Sumter-Fort Moultrie Historical Trust

presents

A HOUSE DIVIDED:

Secession and Its Legacy Symposium

December 3 & 4, 2010

The Citadel's Holliday Alumni Center • 69 Hagood Avenue, Charleston

“Felt History”: Remembrances of The American Civil War

Friday, December 3, 7:05 pm

Introduction by Emory M. Thomas

James I. (“Bud”) Robertson, Jr., The Centennial: An Insider's View

David Blight, A Formula for Enjoying the War: Bruce Catton's Civil War Centennial and Our Sesquicentennial

The Campaign for Disunion

Saturday, December 4, 10:00 am

Moderated by Faye L. Jensen

William C. (Jack) Davis, John C. Breckinridge: The Fire-Eaters' Prisoner

William K. Scarborough, Propagandists for Secession: Edmund Ruffin of Virginia and Robert Barnwell Rhett of South Carolina

The Revolution of 1860

Saturday, December 4, 2:00 pm

Moderated by Kyle S. Sinisi

Mark Neely, Secession as the De-Ratification of the Constitution

William W. Freehling, Was Lincoln an Immediate Menace to Slavery?

Symposium is free and open to the public
Free parking available on-site

For more information, please contact us:

843.224.0331

Allison@fortsumtertrust.org

Or visit:

www.SCCivilWar.org

The Post and Courier

postandcourier.com

“The Civil War is our felt history—history lived in the national imagination.”

–Robert Penn Warren